Standard Steam Trap Leak Detector Rental Agreement

Keystone Technical Services Inc. agrees to provide a Bestobell Steam Trap Leak Detector to:

(Hereafter referred to as 'the customer') under the following terms and conditions.

1. The steam trap leak detector will be shipped and/or delivered to the customer named above in operating condition and complete with batteries, contact probe, carrying case, headphones and instructions.
2. It is the responsibility of the customer to ensure that the unit is as described in paragraph (1.) and advise Keystone Technical Services Inc. immediately upon receipt if any items are broken or missing from the shipment. Or, if the unit is not functioning properly.
3. Responsibility for the unit remains with the customer from the moment it is received by him/her to the moment that it is returned and received by Keystone Technical Services Inc. (this includes time in transit).
4. Any repair or replacement required on the unit or components resulting from misadventure while in the care of the customer or his/her returning carrier, will be invoiced to the customer.
5. Rental fees are detailed in the attached, schedule 'A', and form part of this agreement.
6. Signing of this agreement by the customer constitutes full agreement and acceptance of all terms, conditions and schedules.
